THE DOMINION.

A Mob Attacks the Salvation Army at Quebec.—The Government give Orders to Prevent Mormon Immigrants from Introducing Polygamy.—Bucket Shop Raided.—Another Lumbering Fatality.

Mormon Immigration.

OTTAWA, 18.—At the Department of Agriculture it was ascertained that the number of Icelandic settlers in the Northwest is about $8,000, or a tenth of the population of Iceland. The population of Gimli, the first Icelandic settlement, is rapidly increasing, and settlements are being opened up along the west shore of Lake Superior. Large numbers of Mormons are coming by way of Fort Macleod to the settlement in the Athabasca district.

OTTAWA, 20.—In view of the large number of Mormon families which are daily coming into the Canadian Northwest from Utah and settling near Fort Macleod, the Government has issued strict orders to officers there to suppress at once and report any attempt by them to introduce or follow the tenets of their doctrine as regards polygamy.

England's Bold Policy.

OTTAWA, 21.—It is reported in official circles here that the Behring's Sea difficulty has been all but settled between England and the United States, the latter country now accepting the proposition made a year ago. The policy of England, it is alleged, has been a bold one. Every attempted exercise of jurisdiction by the United States beyond the three-mile limit was to be met by actual resistance, and every British vessel captured outside of that limit by the United States cutters was to be re-captured by the Caroline. England has been consulting Canada in all things respecting claims, but the question of jurisdiction she will settle herself.

The Fatal Drive.

THREE RIVERS, Que., 23.—A terrible drowning accident occurred to a party of lumbermen on the Mattawa River twenty miles from this place. Forty or fifty men were engaged on a log drive. While drunk, some of the men proposed to run the Mattawa rapids. Accordingly one of the log driving boats was run out into the stream and fourteen men boarded her. While passing through the rapids the boat swung round, and over she went, throwing the whole party into the water. Not one of the party was saved.

Salvationists Stoned.

QUEBEC, 18.—The Salvation Army went to St. Foye last night to hold open air meetings, but were stoned so much that they beat a retreat. When passing some woods on the way home a crowd emerged from them, and fired several volleys of stones, seriously injuring several salvationists. At this juncture several young men accompanying the Salvationists drew British Bull Dogs and fired several volleys into the crowd. So far as known only one rioter was shot. He was wounded in the leg.

Discovery of a Gigantic Murderous Plot of Anarchists at Chicago—Canadian Garrison do Good Work at the American National Regatta—Base Ball Championship—A Town Destroyed.

Chicago's Dynamite Plot.

CHICAGO, 20.—The News yesterday said that the detectives have information that 20 pounds of dynamite were distributed on June 3rd and that many of the old anarchists received it, and Police Inspector Bonfield thinks some of it can be traced very close to members of the Central Labor Union.

The three anarchists, Chappeck, Chebawa and Prosheik, arrested by Police Inspector Bonfield yesterday, are booked at the Armoury for appearance on Monday. The evidence against them will be presented to the Grand Jury and they will be indicted under the Dynamite Act. No more arrests were made to-day and no further details of the big plot were made public. The police are still active, however, and will probably soon have others of the conspirators under arrest.

Three of the conspirators are under arrest.

THE SUN DANCE.

The Ceremony at the Blackfoot Reserve Over-Crowfoot's Admiration for Mr. Dewdney.

The Blackfoot sun dance is over and quietness once more reigns supreme on the reserve south of Gleichen. The dance began Monday and was kept up until Wednesday evening, and was conducted in orthodox fashion with the usual accompaniments of tom-tom agony and feasting. Nearly three thousand Indians had gathered for the occasion and their camp of about two hundred and fifty lodges presented a very picturesque appearance. The "brave making" was of course the piece-de-resistance, although the number of braves aspiring to the honor of the redman's knight-hood was exceptionally small, only two. The ambitious braves enjoy lengthy names of the usual unpronounceable and untranslatable description; but one of them has in addition a name which has some significance for the unsophisticated whiteman. This young gentleman's nick-name translated, means "The Gun Bringer" and is a souvenir of a deed of daring he is credited with having performed in those good old days before the buffalo went, when the favorite diversion of Blackfeet and Cree society was the killing of one another. The story goes that the young buck while a mere boy attacked and killed a party of Crees and carried back their guns to the tepees of his tribe. Hence his name. Both the candidates for bravery passed successfully through the prescribed ordeal, but the torture was not so severe as usual, as old Crowfoot has made up his mind to gradually do away with the most trying parts of the ceremony. Two slits as usual, were cut in the breasts of the braves, but instead of being cut deep into the flesh the incisions were made only deep enough to allow of the skewers being slipped under the skin, which they broke with comparatively little exertion on the part of the braves. The shoulder torture was as comparatively light. A very light bunch of beads and buttons suspended from it freed the skewer from the slits of skin between the shoulders, in marked contrast to the severe torture in the days when the skewers were thrust through the flesh to the depth of a couple of inches.

During the progress of the dance the chief men of the Blackfeet interviewed the Indian agent for information respecting a rumor they had heard as to Mr. Dewdney leaving the Indian Department. Old Chief Crowfoot vainly endeavoring to retain the stolidity characteristic of his race, and with tears in his eyes, expressed the deepest grief at the news he had just received and when assured that Mr. Dewdney would likely be appointed "head chief" of the department, could hardly contain himself for satisfaction. This touching evidence of the old chief's admiration for our late governor is all the more remarkable as being given by who was a bitter, persistent opponent of Mr. Dewdney when he began his administration.

Objects of interest to the visitor at the reserve were a couple of interesting little white children, boy and girl, who, although possessing all the physical characteristics of white children are kept by one of the squaws as members of her family. These bright little ones have blue eyes and fair hair and skin, but dress and live exactly as do their little dusky brethren. The squaws of Crowfoot's tribe with that failing for gossip, supposed by some to be characteristic of their sex, keep several stories in circulation as to the origin of these little strange little youngsters. The story which finds most favor with the tribe gossips, is that the children were stolen some time ago from Fort Assiniboine, Montana, and that their father is an American army officer quartered there. The squaw mother, however, ascribes these stories to the green-eyed monster and says the children are her own. Some people who have become interested in the two little ones have attempted to induce the squaw to allow them to be sent to the Indian School at High River, but she refuses to separate herself from them.

Jas. Vick, Rochester, N. Y., has a variety of white oats called the American Banner Oat. Mr. Nelson, of Pincher Creek, purchased 9 lbs. of these oats in the spring of 1887, and planted them that spring, and in the fall reaped a crop of 700 lbs. They are a very early variety, and are the very best oat for the farmers of this country. Mr. Nelson harvested the crop on the 15th of August, being a little less than twelve weeks from the time the seed was put in the ground. This year his crop of the same oats was not harvested until the 2nd day of May, and already they are beginning to head out, the straw being about 15 inches in length.

THE FARM.

Dairy Notes.

A churn should be scalded with boiling water, made alkaline with washing soda. Every particle of milk or cream should be removed. After being washed, the churn should be rinsed by again using boiling water. The work cannot be too carefully done.

Does this description hit you? "The milk is fairly peppered with dark specks falling from the flanks and belly, while the air of the stables is heavy with the odor of fresh dung and urine, blended with that of ammonia, and decay from the saturated floors and adjacent dung heaps imparts its scent to the otherwise fragrant milk."

Keep water in the yard where cows are kept over night. It is cruel to cows in warm weather to keep them away from water for more than six hours at a time, besides being very unprofitable to the owner. This is the place where it pays to be humane even if it costs a great deal of trouble to get the water.

Prof. J. W. Robertson made some experiments in salting milk cows, and reported that there was 14 per cent of the butter fat in milk taken out of it by entirely withholding salt from the cows, as compared with those that had good salt regularly, so that they took it in moderation. One can hardly believe there could be so much difference.

There are three faults in butter-making to be specially guarded against: (1) Over-ripening the cream; (2) over-churning; and (3) over-working. These are three "some things that will not pay" in dairy farming, and there are many others that time will not allow me to touch upon. The bad flavor that we find in butter is very largely due to over-ripening the cream.

The long keeping of cream to "get a churning" is about the most prolific cause of so much of the poor butter that comes from the farm in the winter time. It causes poor yield, from a given quantity of milk—for as a rule, those who do not know enough to churn often, put new and old cream together at the time of churning, and by that means get no butter from the sweet cream but into the mess at the last minute.—Northwest Farmer.

The crop prospects are indicated by the arrival at Calgary this morning of a couple of threshing machines from the manufacturers in Ontario. One of these, a steam machine, has been imported by Mr. S. A. Ramsay of this town. It is a splendid looking machine built by the Joseph Hall Machine Works Co., of Oshawa, Ont. It is constructed so as to use either coal or wood, and will thresh and clean from 1,500 to 2,000 bushels of grain per day.

The Farm.

Get out your mowing machinery and rakes.

The haying season is just beginning and a scarcity of horses in Calgary is noted.

If the dry season continues for any length of time trees planted out last autumn or Spring must be watered.

Get horses into a quiet mood before haying begins. Nothing is more annoying or dangerous than a skittish team in a mow.

By having canvas stack covers to place over the unfinished stacks at night, or on the approach of storms the danger of loss is somewhat averted.

There should be no saving in time or labor during the hay harvest. The more hay the farmers put up, the more security will they have against winter losses.

It is well to begin haying early and keep the work well up. In good hay weather grass cut in the morning after the dew is off, can be cured and housed the same day. If it is heavy it will need shaking up after the top of the swath has dried.

We should be very glad to see some of our Territorial readers try the experiment of redeeming their alkali deserts by planting Bermuda grass on them. We will undertake to supply a few barrels of the seed used for this purpose at cost.—American Sheep Breeder, Chicago.

A fruit which should be grown by every Alberta farmer is the gooseberry. Gooseberry trees are hardy and their fruit exceptionally useful. Gooseberries are about the first of the berry family to come into use, from the fact that they make delicious sauce or tarts when half grown, and you may continue to use them until they ripen.

The C. P. R. Farms.

Supt. Fairchild of the C. P. R. farms left Sunday for the east. Mr. Fairchild pronounces the farms all in fine shape, with the one at Stair the furthest advanced. He says the gophers are very thick at Gull Lake. The employees having killed over 500 so far. Mr. Fairchild has every confidence in the country from an agricultural standpoint, and is proud of the appearance of the company's farms.—Medicine Hat Times.

How to Make Cream Quick.

F. D. Curtis says in the Prairie Farmer: Deep setting of milk to extract the cream is easily done provided the operator follows directions, to wit: Strain into tin cans not exceeding 8 1/2 inches in diameter and 20 inches deep, with close covers. Before the milk has materially cooled, place the same in cold water not warmer than 50 degrees, and not allowed to get warmer during the time named, as deep as the milk. The cans should remain at rest 12 to 24 hours, when it will be found that all the cream of material value has come to the top and can be removed. Well water in this latitude is about 49 degrees; farther south it is somewhat warmer. As we find the water warmer, we must decrease the diameter of the cans to secure the best results. For instance, if the well water should be found 55 degrees, and no ice could be stored to cool it, it would be well to reduce the diameter of the cans to 6 inches. Sudden cooling after the milk is drawn from the cow, from 98 degrees to 48 degrees probably causes the most effective separation that can be made, and in this connection it must be noted that the result of placing cans of warm milk in cold water, is to conduct the warm of the milk into the water, hence the water warms up unless the quantity of the water is so great that no change is perceptible. It is imperative that the temperature of the water be kept low the first four hours, either with ice, running water or a large quantity. It may then be allowed to warm up to 62 degrees, but not more, until the cream is removed.

LITERATURE.

NEW BOOKS.

GEORGE M. McDUGALL.

This book, a biographical sketch of the pioneer, patriot and missionary, Rev. Geo. McDougall, by his son Rev. John McDougall, of Morley, Alberta, is a valuable contribution to the history of the Northwest Territories. In a straightforward interesting style, life in the Northwest under the Hudson Bay Company's rule is depicted and in that most vivid style of description, personal narrative. The writer draws largely upon his father's journals and correspondence for descriptions of leading events, contenting himself with adding the connecting links. The work is replete with stirring incidents admirably told, and a great portion of it reads like a romance, so stirring a life was that of the devoted missionary. The descriptions of the great smallpox epidemic among the Indians and of the feuds among the aborigines will be valuable to the future history of the Northwest. This book, while it will be unusually interesting to anyone who had never heard of this country before, is particularly interesting to Northwest readers and every Northwest household should have a copy. Publishers, Wm. Briggs, 78 and 80 King St. East, Toronto.

THE FORTUNES OF PHILIPPA FAIRFAX.

Novel by Francis Hodgson Burnett, author of "Little Lord Fauntleroy." The story is strongly flavored with sentimentality elegantly expressed. The thread of the story is interest sustaining. The heroine is the daughter of a scape grace father, for whose sake his devoted daughter consented to make the acquaintance of a wealthy relative whom she falls in love with and to whom she becomes engaged. At this point the young man is assured that his affianced made his acquaintance for mercenary motives and the honorable girl cannot deny she actually was led to take the step which led to their meeting by her anxiety to be of advantage to her unfortunate father. Separation follows and at the right moment reconciliation is effected. The character sketching is very effective. In paper cover twenty-five cents. Publisher, Wm. Bryce, Toronto.

DR. GLENNIE'S DAUGHTER.

This is a new story by B. S. Farjesson, author of the "Nine of Hearts," etc. It is a story of the social sensation order founded upon a doctor's daughter's fall and his efforts to prevent her shame from being discovered and to enable her to maintain her social position. Although certain of the descriptions are clever, there is not much literary merit in the book. Its success depends upon the plot, which is sensational enough to gratify the popular taste without being too startling. The book comes to our desk in paper covers. Price twenty-five cents. Publishers, Wm. Bryce, Toronto.

THE MYSTERY OF ST. JAMES' PARK.

A novel by John Blondelle-Burton. This is a novel of the ultra-sensational type. The plot turns upon the affection of two brothers for the same woman, the climax being the murdering of one of the men by his brother's devoted but senseless private secretary, unknown of course to his master. The style of the work is fairly good, and the interest of the reader is sustained to the end. In paper covers twenty-five cents. Publisher, Wm. Bryce, Toronto.

Mr. Peter McCarthy, of the firm of Longhead & McCarthy, advocates, etc., and Mr. James Reilly went east Saturday morning on business. At Minneapolis they are to confer with other parties interested, on business concerning the opening up of mines west of here.

IS THE WATCH MAKER

The Edmonton Bulletin at last has summoned up courage enough to oppose the overwhelming desire of the people of the Territories for the appointment of Mr. Dewdney to the head of the Department of the Interior. The only wonder is that the Bulletin had not taken this step earlier, as its readers have come to consider it a matter of course that the Bulletin must oppose everything the Government does or appears to have any intention of doing. Of course no explanations are necessary, and in the present instance the only excuse the Bulletin can offer for its opposition to Mr. Dewdney is that that gentleman having drawn a high salary as a Government official in the the Northwest for a number of years, is not necessarily in sympathy with the men who form the backbone of the country." Perhaps such a connection as that indicated would not "necessarily" place Mr. Dewdney in sympathy with the people of the country. As a matter of fact however it did, and completely so. The people of the Northwest want hard facts to guide them by and it is the very fact that Mr. Dewdney's official position has brought him into complete touch with them that makes them practically unanimously desirous of being represented by him in the Dominion Cabinet.

BEER PERMITS.

FOR ALL HOTELS OF TWELVE ROOMS AND STABLES.

A Serious Blow to the Whisky Smugglers and Unlicensed Liquor Sellers.

REGINA 24.—Permits are now being issued to the keepers of all hotels with a capacity of twelve sleeping rooms and stabling for five horses, to import and sell beer containing four per cent. of alcohol. The government is to receive a duty of ten cents per gallon. Druggists have been granted temporary permits for brandy to be issued on a doctor's certificate.

The New Beer Permits to Hotels.

The announcement that the Lieutenant-Governor is issuing beer permits to the hotels throughout the Territories caused a genuine sensation Tuesday morning. The HERALD's bulletin board was the centre of attraction, and many citizens made a pilgrimage to the office of this paper to read the announcement. Previous to the reception by the HERALD of the despatch announcing the new departure His Worship Mayor Shelton at the request of a number of citizens had issued his summons for a mass meeting of citizens to consider the liquor question, and the two events coming together made the liquor question the absorbing topic of the day. The despatch is somewhat indefinite and it was impossible to get any further details as the wires between Calgary and Regina were out of order. It is generally supposed, however, that these permits now being issued at Regina are the same as given to the Banff Springs Hotel. The announcement, although indefinite, gave general satisfaction as it was recognized that any change in the present position could not fail to be an improvement. When the announcement was first made it was even proposed to get out the band and have a demonstration.

As announced in the HERALD yesterday "D" Troop, N. W. M. P. has been ordered to remain at Kootenay at the request of the American government. It appears that parties of renegade Indians are creating trouble across the line. The American authorities are endeavoring to force these Indians, who are a bad lot, to reside on the Flathead reserve, and it is feared they may attempt to escape into Canadian Territory.

It is understood that Mr. Dewdney will accompany Mr. Burgess, Deputy Minister of the Interior and party on their western trip. The call of Monday said: Mr. Burgess, Mr. Smith, Mr. Sedgewick, Deputy Minister of Justice, who is in the city, and Hon. Mr. Royal, Lieut.-Governor of the Northwest Territories, go west on Tuesday morning and proceed to Regina, where the three first named gentlemen will have a conference with Hon. This sum is about $1,500 less than was paid to the school last year. Messrs. Rowe and Fitzgerald, president and secretary of the Calgary Agricultural Society, presented a petition from E. R. Rogers and 52 other ratepayers to the council asking that a grant of $500 be made by the town to the society, to assist them in putting up sheds on the show grounds for the accommodation of stock brought there for exhibition, also to assist the Association in making up a respectable prize list for the autumn show.

It was finally moved by Councillor Allen and seconded by Councillor Douglas, That if the $12,000 by-law be carried on the 28th, a grant of $500 be made to the Agricultural Society. This motion was unanimously carried and the deputation withdrew.

After some routine business was got through with, Councillor Collins moved, seconded by Councillor Allan, "That owing to the fact that some feeling exists in town that the police have not been allowed to do their duty with regard to certain houses of prostitution, the police be instructed to use their own discretion as to their duty in town, but in their duty is out of town, the police committee do direct them."

The Mayor ruled this motion out of order and it was withdrawn.

It was then moved by Councillor Collins and seconded by Councillor Allan, "That the ruling of the Mayor be not sustained." This resolution was carried without a dissenting vote.

$9,500 DAMAGES.

Awarded by the Jury in the Case of Conner vs. Calgary.

A great deal of interest has been taken in the case of Mark Conner vs. the Corporation of Calgary. This case was heard at the Superior Court Monday before Mr. Justice Rouleau and a jury. Loughheed & McCarthy for plaintiff, E. F. Davis for the the town. Mr. Conner claimed damages amounting to $5,000 for damages sustained by his wife from falling on the sidewalk, where the snow had not been removed, on the 14th of January, 1888. As usual the question of facts came before the jury Monday. The question of law will be argued before his Lordship to-day. The finding the jury for plaintiff was for $2,500. There are some facts in connection with this case which are interesting. In the first place if there was negligence on the part of any council, it was the council of 1837 that were to blame. The accident occurred on the 14th of January, and the present council were not sworn in until the 16th of January, therefore, had no power to act in any respect. Chief Ingram was not to blame as the previous council had passed any by-law giving him power to compel clearing sidewalks of snow. So far as the present council are concerned, they were sworn in on the Monday, the 16th and as usual adjourned till Wednesday evening. When they met for business, if remembered right, Councillor Allan then gave notice of a by-law empowering the council to compel clearing the walks. This by-law was passed on the 1st of February, which was as soon as it could be legally done. But at the said first regular meeting of the council, the chairman of public works asked leave to get the walks cleaned of snow. This was granted and the next day (Thursday) Chairman Orr and Chief Ingram were on the streets from morning till night with men and before sundown the walks were cleared and kept clear afterwards.

A Hazardous Trip.

On Saturday two men started in a canoe from Canmore for a short trip down the river. Before they had gone far they lost their paddles and were left at the mercy of the current. When passing an island one of the men caught hold of an overhanging branch, of a tree, to which he held on. The canoe with the other man in it shot from under him, but he clung to the branch, which enabled him to wade to the shore. The man in the canoe was carried down stream, but finally drifted to shore. From his point of landing he walked to Canmore where he got two men to join him for the purpose of rescuing the man on the island. When the rescuing party reached a place opposite another island above where the man was imprisoned, they felled a tree from the shore to the nearest island, intending, when on it, to make an effort to reach the man they were trying to save. They succeeded in getting on the first island and then cut some more trees to strengthen their bridge, but a swell of the current carried all the trees away leaving them too imprisoned. After some delay another rescuing party came to their relief and with ropes got these three men back to land late in the evening. The other man, however, was so fortunate, as he had to remain on the island all night. On Sunday a boat was brought down from Banff, with which he was taken from his island and once more made a free man.

The Public School.

The public school closed for the summer holidays Friday. Miss Bredin, who is resigning her position as teacher, was presented by the pupils of her department with an address expressive of their thanks for her kindness and the pains she had taken with them in their work, and their regret at having to say good bye to her as their teacher. It also expressed the wish of the little ones for their teacher's happiness in the future. A pair of silver napkin rings and a butter cooler accompanied the address as mementos of the admiration of the young lady's pupils.

The Banff License.

The principal topic of conversation about town to-day was the announcement of the granting of a license to the Banff Springs Hotel. It appears that the license is one similar to those previously given the Canadian Pacific dining cars, and allows the hotel to sell wines and malt beverages to its guests. Among those who should know it appears to be the opinion that the Government will issue similar license to the one granted at Banff, to all reputable hotel keepers in the Territories who apply for them. The price of the license has not been authoritatively announced, but it is understood to have been very high.

Imported Stock.

A very choice lot of highly-bred Gallo-way cattle were shipped, June 8th, for Quebec, by Messrs. Biggar & Sons, Dalbeattie, says the London Live Stock Journal. They consisted of six bulls and 24 heifers, and in respect to breeding and personal merit Messrs. Biggar considers this the finest lot they ever exported. Along with these cattle they also shipped a number of Dorset Horned, Shropshire and Cotswold sheep to order from Canada and the United States.

Medicine Hat.

Times 14.

The Medicine Hat railway is to be completed by Nov. 1, 1888.

The brick is being delivered for the school house. The contract calls for 5,000.

Fred Pope will leave for Lethbridge this week, where he will take up his residence.

The Agricultural Society officers are taking the necessary steps towards incorporation.

The people of Medicine Hat are all living off of the produce of their gardens this weather.

Mr. LeClere's surveying party is in the city. They are buying their supplies from Tweed & Ewart.

A party unexcelled or surpassed in any particular, during the existence of Medicine Hat, was given last evening, Tuesday, by Mr. and Mrs. J. Ewart, at their residence on Esplanade west. The guests were many and the host and hostess equal to the task of making the evening enjoyable to all. The spacious apartments were thrown open and waltzes, polkas, schottisches and quadrilles were participated in by the young people, who also found a friend in the fountain or lemonade placed at their mercy. Ice cream and cake was served about 24 o'clock, and neither palatable can complain of being in the least slighted.

Supt. Antrobus and Capt. Moodie left Thursday on an inspection tour of the outlying posts. They will return the latter part of this week.

Engineer Tom Price, who was employed on the western division of the Canadian Pacific some three years ago, was recently killed in a collision on the Wabash system.

Lethbridge.

News 12th.

Last Sunday four church services were held here for the first time since the town started. Revs. VanTighem, for the R. C., Ritchard for the English, McKillop, Presbyterian and Hillier, Methodist, were the officiating clergymen.

Twelve men for the N. W. M. Police arrived here from Regina on Saturday morning last. Eleven of them remained at this post, bringing the total strength up to 90 men. There are 102 horses on the strength at this post at present.

Col. Elton, of Pincher Creek, arrived here yesterday to meet two of his sons who came in on this morning's train. The young men have been putting in a two year's course at the Agricultural College at Guelph and have carried off high honors. They intend localizing on the North Fork of Old Man's River at which place the Colonel and his eldest son are already located.

The Methodist Church has leased the building east of Mr. J. Craig's furniture store lately occupied by Mr. George Leake and intend holding services in it until their own building is erected. The services are held at 11 and 7:30 Sundays, and prayer meeting at 7:30 Thursday evenings. An open-air service will be held on Sunday afternoons at 3:30 in the bottom near the mouth of the mines.

Rebellion Predictions.

The Toronto Mail, which arrived here yesterday contained the following despatch:—

WINNIPEG, July 13.—There is no doubt that the half-breeds on the banks of the Saskatchewan are getting desperate and preparing for another rebellion against the Dominion Government. The people claim that since the rebellion their condition has been rapidly growing worse until now it is simply deplorable. They say the troops robbed them of their possessions, for which no compensation has been made. Without crops and without seed grain, they have scarcely been able to subsist. The day of the buffalo is done and they can get no game. They have sent for Gabriel Dumont to come to their assistance, and offer to place themselves under his leadership, swearing that they will all stand by him to give the last drop of their blood. It is understood that the Government are considerably alarmed at the report of the organization and the armed resistance which have reached headquarters, and that the Lieutenant-Governor of the Territories and the deputy Minister of the Interior are on their way west with orders to investigate the state of affairs, and if possible to treat with the half-breeds.

Under the despatch the editor of the Mail published the following note:—"The above despatch, which comes by Associated Press, is given for what it is worth. It must be taken with extreme caution, as such reports are frequently sent out without foundation to form sensational reading for the United States papers."

Northwest Wool.

Mr. H. De Winton, secretary of the Wool Growers Association at Calgary has kindly furnished The Call with the following information:—

Within a radius of forty miles of this place there are at present about 40,000 head of sheep, mostly merino grades, commonly known as mountain sheep, and in fact all the original herds came from Montana for the last year or two. They have been bred to Shropshire down bucks. The clip of wool this year is excellent in quantity and quality. The amount of wool this year will be about 200,000 pounds, or ten car loads. It is all clipped now and ready for the market, but the eastern market is so low at present that owners of wool are holding back for better prices, as they claim that by the time expenses are paid, such as freight, storage, commission etc., that the margin left is too small. This industry is only in its infancy here yet, and I think a party who first starts a woolen factory in this neighborhood, will make his fortune as he will have an open field all to himself both to buy and sell in.—The Call.

Alberta Horses For Manitoba.

Mr. Christie, manager of the Stewart Ranch, arrived to-day with a hundred and twenty mares, making four car loads, which were shipped to Brandon. Mr. Christie, who has recently returned from an Eastern trip reports a good demand for horseflesh in Eastern Assiniboia and Manitoba. During this season no less than fifteen horses from the East, British Columbia, Washington Territory and Oregon have been sold along the line of the C. P. R., between Brandon Manitoba, and Moosomin Assa. The farmers, he found while anxious to invest in horseflesh will only buy mares as they contend that while mares for nearly the whole year can do as much work as horses they soon pay for themselves by their colts. The mares Mr. Christie shipped this morning were the surplus of the Stewart Ranch.

Why Brands Grow on Stock.

Correspondent Drover's Journal: I see some man wishes to know why brands grow on stock. There has been a great deal of discussion in this matter, and it has been settled in Texas by judicial decision that it was due to the influence of the moon, but from a close observation of 20 years I am led to the conclusion that the reason is due to two causes: First, the character of the hide; on a thick, heavy skinned animal the brand will not grow as much; second, the method of branding; if your irons are hot and you make a good quick brand, not to deep, the brand will grow, but if your irons are very hot and you cook the hide or burn very much then the brand will not grow. This last is the principal reason.

Cattle for Canada.

LONDON, 20.—The steamer Lake Superior sailed yesterday with a number of valuable pedigree cattle and sheep purchased by Canadians. The steamers are now full of pedigree stock for Canada. The Dundee Commissioners have applied to the Privy Council for the privilege of making that city a landing place for foreign animals, the object being to secure imports of Canadian cattle similar to those sent to Aberdeen.

The Canadian Cattle Company has completed its plans to import for the season six or seven cargoes of store cattle; to leave Montreal in the autumn. No more Danish store cattle will be imported for the present.

Large Sheep Shipment.

Mr. B. M. Godsal, of Pine Creek, with a staff of men was engaged in loading between 900 and 1,000 sheep on a train of double deck cars today. These sheep have for the past two years been under the charge of Mr. Thompson, of Horse Creek and are a splendid band of animals. Only seven were culled out of the whole lot. They were sold to Mr. Jamieson, of Brandon.

The hands on the Stewart Ranch are engaged collecting the cattle purchased by the buyers from Eastern Canada, lately here. They are in prime condition.

Colfax County, N. M., Stockman: The weather during the past week has been fearfully hot and very dry. This is, so far, one of the driest seasons for many years. . . . Curt. Lockard, who has charge of D. Clwyer's extensive horse breeding ranches, says that the stock is doing remarkably well. They have a large number of fine colts.

C. D. Gifford & Son, of Milford, Kan., are the owners of a Shorthorn cow that is seventeen years old. They purchased her in 1880, paying $500 for her and a heifer calf at foot, and to this date the money realized from stock from her amounts to $1,475, and they have still seventeen head in their herd descended from her. She has always had heifer calves, looks well at present, and is safe in calf again.

Gleedive, Montana, Independent. The sheep industry is on the improve in Montana. Many men who have had their money in cattle, and have met with great losses, are now turning their attention to sheep since they know that they are less liable to loss, and get larger profits from the woolly tribe. Thousands of fine sheep are now being bought that will be put on our extensive ranges right after shearing.

Live Stock Indicator: Rain is beginning to be longed for by stockmen all over the southwest, as the warm winds from the south have had the effect of drying the grass to a very considerable extent. A few showers and the ranges would blossom like the rose. From present indications it seems as though Northern Arizona is destined to receive at least a hundred thousand head of cattle from New Mexico and Texas. This means that there is going to be considerable crowding, and that in the very near future some fellow's feelings are going to be hurt, as well as his purse by overstocking.

Montana Live Stock Journal: That was a big haul of horses some parties recently made when they stole 200 head from Mr. D.A.G. Flowerree's horse ranch on the Teton. The reward of $3,000 for the recovery of the horses, or 100 of them, and the capture of the thieves—dead or alive—prove that the Stock-Growers' Association is in earnest about the matter. The animals being fine ones, plainly branded, cannot fail to attract attention wherever they may be taken by the thieves. They can't be long be hid away this side of the north pole. It may come high, but the association is bound to recover those horses, and some horse-thief is liable to get hurt. A dead horse-thief calls for a reward as well as a live one.

THE MINE.

Phosphorus and Manganese in Basic Pig-Iron.

According to Herr C. Reinhardt, the proportion of phosphorus and manganese in basic pig-iron is almost invariably greater at the edge of a section than it is in the centre. In the case of slowly cooled gray cast iron, the quantities of phosphorus and manganese vary throughout the mass, but appear to do so together. In a mass of the metal, phosphorus is very unevenly distributed in the various layers, and its amount appears to be greatest at the surface. The same may be said of manganese, and with a rapidly cooled sample both metals are found in the largest proportion, not only in the surface layer, but upon the whole exterior surface of the pig-iron.—Mining Review.

To Bore For Coal.

Mr. Maltby whose departure for Cochrane was noted yesterday took with him a complete boring outfit of the latest pattern for boring for coal. The apparatus had been shipped right through from St. Paul and two experts came along with it. Mr. Egan, late Superintendent of the Western Division of the Canadian Pacific is reported to be the prime mover in this enterprise, and is backed up by a syndicate of St. Paul capitalists. Mr. Egan is expected at the scene of operations, himself in a few days.

Mining Notes.

In 1867, 2,277 gross tons of Bessemer steel rails were produced in the United States, and the price was $166 per ton.

Metals, including tin, copper and spelter are an average of 36 per cent higher, and bar iron is 13 per cent higher than one year ago.

Last year the Lake Superior mines placed on the market 4,738,903 tons of ore, this being 1,170,546 tons in excess of their output during 1886.

Soetbeer's tables show that from 1870 to 1885 the coinage consumed 39,019,000 kilograms of silver bullion, while the mines produced 33,215,000 kilograms.

In 1866 the coinage of the world consumed 21 per cent more silver bullion (135 against 115 million dollar's worth) than the mines of the world produced. In 1885 the coinage excess was about 16 per cent.

It has been estimated that beneath the earth's crust there lie about 8,000,000,000 cubic yards of coal, at depths rendering them available for the use of man. In round numbers this would be a little over 7,000,000,000 tons of coal.

Visitors from the mountains report that mining operations are booming. Two different parties are now in Calgary for the purpose of organizing companies to open up mines, and appear to be meeting with success.

Mr. George Hope Johnson, of Gleichen, informs us that Mr. Maltby has commenced pumping the old coal shaft at that point, with a view to making a thorough test of the coal veins in that neighborhood. Rumor has it that these tests are being made in the interests of the C.P.R., who want to have some reliable source of supply of coal on this part of their line. Knowing ones ask why not bore at Calgary?

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—Are you aware that your child suffers from Teething? Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething is invaluable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it. Mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures Croup, Whooping Cough, Sore Throat, Hoarseness, and Diarrhoea, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, cures Wind Colic, softens the Gums, reduces Inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the system. ### THE SKEENA UPRISING.

VICTORIA 19.—Intense interest continues to be taken here in the Skeena Indian uprising. There is considerable activity forwarding supplies to the front. The Colonist gives some particulars of the equipment of the men. It says:

The expedition is under command of Lieut.-Col. Holmes, commandant of "C" Battery, Major Peters, Staff-Surgeon Duncan, Captain Benson, Lieut. Ogilvie and Lieut. Gaudet being the officers. The non-commissioned officers and men number eighty in all. The expedition will proceed to the mouth of the Skeena in full military accoutrements, each man being provided with a Snider rifle and full kit; officers will carry revolvers. The band will also be along as far as Port Essington. Arrived here, the battery will abandon their bright uniforms and officers and men will encase themselves in brown duck suits, for which orders were only given yesterday morning and which are to be ready in time to be forwarded north.

Lieut.-Col. Prior has been secured by Col. Holmes for supply manager and his duty will be to look after the purchasing of supplies and the providing of transport. Hon. J. H. Turner will also go up with the expedition to look after supplies. Canoes manned by Indians, will be secured at Port Essington, and the force will be taken up the river as far as the canon, though it is impossible at present, and would be dangerous in the event of hostilities, to take the men. The force will embark here, and this point will be made the base of operations. Half of the men will proceed on under Col. Holmes to investigate matters and clear a trail to Hazelton. Every possible necessity is being provided, and in the event of having to leave a road for themselves to Hazelton a large number of axes are being taken. Beyond the canon it will be impossible to carry tents and the force will have to lay down to rest with their waterproof cloaks around them. However, all are eager for the expedition, and are ready to pass through the hardships and dangers that will undoubtedly be met.

The Vancouver News-Advertiser special gives a full account of the departure of the force from Victoria. It says: The men of "C" Battery were busy yesterday packing their kits and cleaning their arms. The idea of a campaign amongst the wilds of British Columbia did not appear to strike terror into the hearts of the members of "C" Battery. Everything indicated excitement and bustle, and between the jokes indulged in the men would strike up some popular song that would make the building ring again. The equipment of the men is something unique in military affairs. Each man had his field kit, which consists of a "hold all" complete, knife, fork, spoon, comb, etc., 1 shirt, 1 pair socks, 1 pair boots, cap, great coat, blankets and 60 rounds of cartridges, the whole wrapped up neatly in a waterproof sheet bound by a piece of white cotton cord, while the ordinary bar-baras from bed strap is made to do duty for shoulder straps. On the whole the get up is something new. The absence of the usual accoutrements, pouch, belts, etc., and the substitution of a bandolier for carrying the ammunition, 40 rounds, gave the troops a rather rough but at the same time serviceable appearance. The canteen, or mess tin, is attached to the "pack," while the haversack is used for carrying odds and ends, or the day's ration. The rifle is carried without the sword bayonet, and it may be therefore, presumed that there will be no claim to a charge of Waterloo at the bayonet's point. Major Peters takes, as a matter of course, his field camera with him and the world of photography will have new additions to its albums, both under fire and otherwise. The expedition on arriving at the mouth of the Skeena will embark on board the Caroline's boats to be towed by the steam launch to the end of navigation. The latter part of the route is rough being merely an Indian trail and it is expected that the troops will take four days to make the march. A depot of reserves and a base of supplies will be established at the head of navigation, where part of the troops will remain to await the result of the advance. It is not intended to employ any of the uniform or blue jackets from the Caroline unless their services should be called into requisition. The troops will be supplied with navy revolvers and ammunition from the Caroline in addition to their rifles. At 19:45 the Battery marched out of the gates, the band playing "The girl I left behind me." As the fine body of men marched through Government street ladies waved adieus with their handkerchiefs, and the band playing a lively martial air. Port street was crowded with people, and the very unusual scene of a body of armed men marching along to uphold the supremacy of British law brought forth nearly the whole of the residents of the city.

OTTAWA 20.—The Government have decided to send eastern troops to quell the Indian uprising in British Columbia should their services be required.

VICTORIA, July 21.—General Middleton has telegraphed the authorities here that he can place five thousand men on the cars in twenty-four hours, for British Columbia. It is not thought likely that any outside force will be required to put down the Indian uprising.

VICTORIA 23.—It is generally thought that if the reports received of the murder of Clifford and the constable by the Skeena Indians are true, that the Indians have massacred all the white people at the fort. The Indians, if really bent on giving trouble, would make a desperate effort to obtain possession of the Hudson's Bay fort, as thus they would secure arms, ammunition and provisions. The Indians in that region are pretty well divided against one another, and probably some of them would side with the whites against their enemies. In that case the result would probably be a bitter Indian war.

OTTAWA 24.—At the militia department it was ascertained that no further news had been received regarding the Skeena River uprising and it is not expected for two or three days until the arrival of the "Caroline" at Victoria, where only it can be telegraphed from.

A Hudson's Bay Official's Description of Skeena Indians.

The Winnipeg Call, received today, publishes a letter from a Hudson Bay Company official at Hazelton, which gives the following description of the Skeena Indians: "The Indians here are all heathens and so sturdily refuse to embrace Christianity that even the enticing aids of Roman Catholic observances was so lost upon them that a priest who labored long among them was forced from sheer discouragement to give up in wrath and disgust, this extremely strong field of heathendom. They are wild and lawless, with no more notion of fairness than a wolf, whose character they exactly parallel, inasmuch as when they come to the store alone they are almost vexatiously meek and lowly, but when they collect in numbers the are loud-mouthed and menacing, and seemingly ready to visit two or three kinds of vengeance upon you. I sometimes quiver with suppressed rage, and the noble disposition, in spite of policy, to caress one or two of them with a club oftentimes seizes me. They are low in stature and degraded in morals, and so obtuse in perception and understanding that the simplest arithmetic hopelessly confounds them; and anything in the way of exchanging values is so confusing to their minds that, in irritation, I sometimes wish I could hire an earwig to carry the sense into their miserable brains. Their facial appearance consists of mouth and cheekbones. I suppose I ought to mention their small and flat noses, but it is "hardly anything to speak of," neither will I enumerate the other features, because I will be sure to overreach upon the territory monopolized by the aforesaid parts. It is among such people I am cast now—a people who murdered one storekeeper worried the other so much he died, and the third was fast going into a decline when I was sent up to relieve him during the busy time of the season.

The Great Stallion Race.

The association to give a prize on the third day on the race for the stallions that competed in the sweepstake race to be divided in three monies, the winner of the sweepstake to be handicapped.

All entries for the stallion race must be made with the secretary, on or before the 1st of August, 1888, and $10.00 paid in to him, the balance to be paid before the day of race.
